Dancing Partners

THE Off-Beat Soda Shop was hopping this afternoon. It seemed to Joe that everybody attending Lacey Tech had been in, was in, or surely would come in, plus some others, like those two from Madden High. Those two characters danced as though dancing started and stopped with them.

The juke box was going like mad and kids hopped and had sodas, and danced. There was a buzz of excited chatter in the place, most of it about the dance contest on WNLB next week. The teen dance team that won would go on a major network TV show for a Sunday evening engagement, then a series of afternoon performances. From there, anything could happen.

"Hi ya, Joe," Peggy Dunneen chuckled, as she parked herself onto the stool just vacated by Don Harwood. "I want a Goody-Goo, heaped with nuts, and a cherry sitting proud and high on a hill of whipped cream."

When Joe put the Off-Beat special before her, she smiled dreamily, studying it. Then she spooned the cherry off and scrimped up her scrubbed clean face, liking what Joe had put before her, liking the Off-Beat's atmosphere, the Off-Beat's crowd.

Joe Bolton was no older than most of them. He was attending evening high, finishing up. He quit Lacey Tech at the end of his junior year and went to work for his uncle. But attending night school had given him a feeling of quick adulthood, and a detachment from the attachments of Boy for Girl, Girl for Boy that developed there. He watched all the turmoil with a slightly removed, experienced eye.

"Joe," Peggy asked him as she worked her way down through the sweet, satisfying, goody stuff, "what do you want out of life?"

"Oh now," Joe laughed. "Not that. Not you."

"Why not me?" she asked. "I know what I want out of life. If you're sensitive I won't ask. But ask me, I'm not sensitive."

"O.K. tell me," he said, cleaning up the space vacated next to her. "What do you want out of life?"

"I want someone mature for a friend," she said. "Someone who will keep me from making mistakes. Someone to advise me."

"You sure you're all right?" he asked her, and walked away to wait on those two spenders from Madden High, who felt superior to this Tech crowd. One of them was a crew cut with an habitual leer. His companion was stocky with a silly grin. Now as Joe took their orders the crew cut said, "Send the drip over. We'll buy her a soda."

"Sorry," Joe said. He felt like telling them to get out. He didn't want anything unpleasant happening in here.

He returned to the counter and Peggy continued talking to him, doing a monologue about herself, her mother, her kid brother, and about her father who had been a dancer in several Broadway shows. She wanted to know what Joe thought . . . should she become a dancer?

As if on cue the juke box went into that Rock and Roll, and the crew cut came over and gripped Peggy's hand. He wanted to dance, this kid did, and he just knew that she would dance with him.

"Excuse me," Peggy said, looking startled. She tried to detach his fingers from her wrist. The boy wouldn't let go. He started to drag. Joe leaned forward and caught the fellow's necktie.

"Leave her alone," Joe said quietly. The boy looked at Joe and muttered something. Joe said, "It's kind of crowded to do much dancing anyway." He had to be a pacifist even though he didn't like the bullying manner of this character.

The crew cut looked at the tight smile on Joe's face, at the heft of his shoulder, and retreated. He left with his friend moments later.

After they had gone Peggy said, "That's been happening to me a lot since I did that dance bit on Teen-Tea-Time on TV. It seems as though kids think it would be a special achievement to dance with me. Joe, I feel old."

"How old are you?" Joe smiled.

"A lady doesn't have to tell," she said.

"No," Joe was amused, "she doesn't." He knew exactly how old Peggy was. Sixteen. She lived next door to him. Once, he had thought, he would have liked to be friends with her. But now, working here all day, going to school at night, he had to put thoughts like that out of his mind. Someday he'd get a girl, but now he was just a hard worker and an observer.

The music was going with the hypnotic beat and kids danced with intense concentration. Peggy turned on her stool and watched. There were some sharp dancers in this crowd.

"Joe," Peggy swung back to him. "I never see you dance any more. You were a good dancer. And you never asked me to dance."

"I'm not asking you now. I work here. Sometime, someplace, if the atmosphere is right, I'll walk up to you and say, 'Dance, Miss?' And you'll look at me like you looked at those two who left."

"Wasn't I right?" she asked, as though Joe's advice meant a great deal to her. It made Joe feel funny, and kind of good too. "Joe," she asked, "what time are you through here?"

"Five," he said. "Why?"

She smiled, slipped off her stool and left. He looked after her and thought, "That girl's flipped her upper!"

She was back at five, and she walked home with him. And walking with him, it seemed to Joe that she hadn't flipped at all. At least she said what she had to say very clearly. She wanted Joe to dance with her. She made him know that Joe had always given her a sense of security, like when that fellow wanted her to dance with him.

She told Joe more about the dance contest on WNLB the following week. The winners would get contracts to do exhibition dances around the city, in theatres, on TV programs, guest shots. It was a good thing.

"But I haven't danced much in a long time."

"I like you, Joe," she said. "I believe in you. And when I spoke to my father, he looked at you. We spied on you, Joe, and dad said you walked like a dancer. Joe . . . we can rehearse in the basement of my house. If we win this, you can go to day school. You can make enough to pay part of your college tuition. Your uncle needs you. But he'll get another soda jerk."

"Peggy," he marveled, "how did you get so serious all of a sudden?"

"Not all of a sudden," she smiled. "Since we danced together in Junior High, I've felt this way about you."

Joe had to laugh, "Suppose we don't win, don't even place?"

"That's no way to think," she said with considerable heat. "You've got to think like a winner!"

They practiced that weekend in the basement of Peggy's home. And when the contest was being held, they sat in the studio in a way that made them look like a team. Then when they danced, they were given an odd kind of attention, different than that riveted on the other contestants. The applause too had a strange quality. And Joe, listening to it, felt he had to console Peggy.

"I'm sorry for you," he said, squeezing her hand. "I wish it had been better." But though she didn't say anything, she wasn't crying either. And Joe thought, "This kid's a fighter. She's thinking of next time. But by then, she'll have a better partner. Back to the soda fountain for me!"

But it wasn't back to the soda fountain. When the awards were announced, the winners were Joe Bolton and Peggy Dunneen!

Get Rid of UGLY PIMPLES this new easy way!

Amazing new medicated lotion developed by a doctor works wonders by clearing up complexion in one week or less!

DON'T let a bad complexion ruin romance, spoil your fun, cause you to be embarrassed, shy or ashamed. If you suffer from acne, the common external cause of pimples among young people, try this wonderfully effective medicated lotion that was developed by a practicing physician to clear up his own teen ager's complexion after other methods had failed. It has produced astonishing results for many thousands of others. It is GUARANTEED to help you or it won't cost you a single cent!

Doesn't Show On Your Face

Keraplex is a skin-colored lotion (NOT a greasy salve or ointment!) that is quickly absorbed by the skin and gets right down in the pores where its healing and antiseptic ingredients can go to work. After you have applied it, there is no trace left on the surface. In fact, it makes a perfect powder base for girls and a refreshing after shaving lotion for men... actually improves the tone of the skin! It is pleasant and easy to use — leaving your skin soft, clean and fragrant.

Boys and girls—If you have pimples on your shoulders or back, you can avoid embarrassment when they are exposed to view. For Keraplex keeps your shoulders, arms, back and chest wonderfully free from pimples—without soiling clothes, without messiness or greasiness!

Works in SIX Out of SEVEN Cases!

An analysis of RESULTS taken from actual case histories proves that Keraplex is successful in clearing up six of every seven cases of externally caused blackheads and pimples. It tones up the complexion generally, giving it a healthy, radiant glow.

Try This New Method Without Risking A Penny!

Keraplex is GUARANTEED to clear up your skin troubles or there will be NO COST to you whatsoever. If yours happens to be the ONE extra-stubborn case out of seven which Keraplex cannot help in one short week, it will cost you nothing to have tried it. Keraplex is sent to you with that simple, positive GUARANTEE!

SEND NO MONEY

She Once Had THIN LEGS!

"Now I have Fuller Calves, Shapely Thighs, Hips and Ankles."

Writes Miss R. U., Cleveland, Ohio

THE most encouraging news for women with thin, under-developed legs has just been revealed by Henry Miltchen, Ph.D. If your thin legs are due to normal causes and you haven't any disease or pathological condition, you should try to attain the strong alluring shapely legs you've always wanted. This well-known physiotherapist, who was President of the Metropolitan School of Physiotherapy and is a member of the New York State Society of Physiotherapists, has an enviable record of helping lovely stage and screen actresses as well as women like yourself to mold beautiful legs. Over a period of 32 years, he has used an amazingly natural method which is unsurpassed by anything we have ever seen.

ORDINARY METHODS FOUND TO HELP LITTLE IN FILLING OUT THIN LEGS

Many women engaged in improper strenuous exercises and calisthenics used up a lot of time and energy but it did next to nothing for rounding out skinny legs.

Other women actually tried weight gaining diets to improve skinny legs. The legs generally gain far less, if anything, in proportion than the rest of the body. Also, adding flabby fat to the legs does not necessarily result in the seductive, shapely curves which men admire and which look so appealing in anything you wear.

IN MANY CASES DOCTORS ADVISE USE OF THIS TECHNIQUE

This Progressive Scientific Method for developing skinny legs is based on the knowledge and experience of the medical profession, physiotherapists and famous body building experts throughout the world.

The wonderful, scientific method is intended to stimulate the tissues and muscle structure of the legs and encourage their development to normally rounded natural contours. When blood circulation is properly stimulated to the point where it helps nourish those lazy tissues, it also tends to tone the skin with a vibrant glow. When each section of the leg has its proper normal shape, the hips possess seductive, feminine curves which men admire, the thighs are superbly rounded, knees are daintily shaped without knobby, bony appearance, the calves fill out with soft curves, and even the ankles are pretty and appealing. Remember, the muscular structure of a woman's leg is basically different from a man's. So that when your legs develop, you only add graceful feminine curves.

"ALL-AROUND GLAMOUR LEGS" HELP WOMEN IN EVERYTHING THEY DO

Most figure experts agree that poor legs spoil an otherwise shapely figure... while nicely rounded limbs add an appearance of over-all beauty to even the poor and average figure. Because the legs are the one part of the body which always shows, glamorous legs help you look better in any clothes you wear — dresses, skirts, sports and play clothes, bathing suits, etc. They make you a more desirable dance partner and help you do the latest steps more gracefully. Well-formed legs help you in all sports; they enable you to swim, skate, bowl, play tennis, etc., with more ease and better form. They help you walk and stand with ease, with the posture which always wins admiration.

They give you more energy for work and play, help lessen fatigue, especially when you home at or housework keeps you on your feet.

SEE HOW THIS TECHNIQUE HELPED JUST A FEW OF THE MANY OTHERS!

"... has done wonders so far in developing my thighs, calves, etc. ... my husband and friends can see the progress I've made."

"I have completed your Scientific Home Leg Course which done wonders for me."

— Mrs. J. E.,
Owassee, Mich.

WRITE ABOUT IN LEADING HEALTH MAGAZINE

HEALTH CULTURE asked this authority on legs to write a series of articles on the fundamentals of this method. This magazine rightly believed that their readers should know about this wonderful technique. Many other leading magazines and newspapers have written about the price-less advantages of correct leg development.

TESTED AND PROVEN METHODS REQUIRE ONLY 15 PLASANT MINUTES A DAY!

This amazing method has been used by beautiful stage and screen stars, professional models and women in every walk of life. Thousands have gladly paid high fees for personal instruction here in New York City. Now this famous expert makes it possible for any woman to try his method, requiring only 15 minutes a day, right in the comfort and privacy of her own home at a tiny fraction of this cost.

You get the complete, easy, step-by-step illustrated SCIENTIFIC LEG DEVELOPMENT TECHNIQUE with simple instructions for under-developed hips, thighs, knees, calves, ankles; gaining stronger legs; improving skin tone and circulation in less; normal causes of skinny legs; plus measurement chart for each section of leg according to height and weight; also, how leg development may improve general health.
